General Labor contractors provide support to telecom and utility companies in the immediate aftermath of devastating events including hurricanes, tornadoes, severe winter storms, floods, and power outages. Don't worry though, typically we only deploy contractors AFTER the storms have passed as a recovery and support crew. These deployments can last a few days or even a few weeks depending on the event.

We tailor our operations to suit the needs of our clients and set up equipment laydown-yards or man camps for them to utilize while they are restoring vital services. We provide bunkhouses, shower houses, laundry facilities and catering operations. We set up, operate, and maintain these facilities until our client is done working in that area. Work can range from checking people in at a gate to folding laundry, working in a kitchen, security detail, to working in an office.

We are looking for contractors that have the drive and adaptability to work whatever job is required of them. It is important to be organized, self motivated and capable of multitasking.
